FATHER'S DENUNCIATION

Charges His Son With Setting Fire to His Property.

Held for Grand Jury-The Fire Caused the Death of an Old Soldier.

Yesterday afternoon there was a fire which occasioned considerable excitement in the neighborhood of 23d and L streets. The fire was not very much of an affair in itself, but its results were decidedly serious. An elderly man, who was an invalid and a sufferer from heart trouble, was overcome by the excitement, and died a few minutes later. Following shortly on the heels of that incident a young colored man was put under arrest, charged with arson. The police made an investigation, which satisfied them that he was responsible for the fire. He is the son of the owner of the stable where the fire started, and it is said that he had frequently threatened to get even with his father by burning him out.

The fire started in a little stable in the rear of 2213 L street, owned and occupied by John Morgan, colored. Before the en-gines reached the spot it had spread to the adjoining stable on the west, owned by Robert Burrell. Both buildings were destroyed, as were a couple of small woodsheds, and Union Wesley Church, a colored house of worship, on 23d street, the back of which adjoined Morgan's stable, was badly scorched by the flames. The damage altogether did not amount to more than

John Tiernan, a veteran sixty years of age, lived in the alley diagonally across from the stables. During the excitement he dropped dead. A physician was sum-moned, but it was too late, and Tiernan died almost instantly. A certificate of death from latural causes was given and the corpner will not be called upon to hold an inquest.

Tiernan was an old cavalryman and lived with his wife, who is prostrated over the lcss. He is said to have left his home to help save his neighbors' property. Hi death resulted from hemorrhage. The funeral of the dead man will take place Sunday at 1:30, the body being taken to St. Sunday at 1:30, the body being taken to st.
Stephen's Catholic Church and thence to Soldiers' Home cemetery. At the home the procession will be joined by a firing party from the dead man's veteran com-

He Was Intoxicated.

After the fire was out Morgan informed the police that his son James had come home drunk during the afternoon, and had demanded some money. When it was refused the young man became very much incensed and said that he would get even with his family for treating him so unjustly. Put-ting some matches in his pocket he walked out the back door, and a few moments later the stable was found to be in flames.

Young Morgan was put under arrest when he returned to his father's house a little later. He resisted, and it required the eforts of several policemen to subdue him He was taken to the station by Police.nan Parham, and on the way he neither affirmed nor denied his guilt, insisting that the police would have to prove him guilty.

Father's Denunciation. This morning the defendant was arraigned before Judge Miller on a charge of arson and he entered a plea of not guilty.

Policeman Parham, who made the arrest was in court with a number of witnesses and the defendant's father was the first one

"That's my boy," said the old man, "and he ought to have been hung on the spot, instead of being here."
"What did he do?" the court inquired.

"He burned my stable."

"What was in the stable?"

"He let the horse loose first, and if it hadn't been for the good work done we'd all been burned out."

"The fire killed one man," remarked the officer. "The shock was so great that an old man dropped dead." The defendant's father said that his son had threatened to burn the place, and the threat was heard by another witness, Policeman Parham said that Morgan went to Kinslow's saloon and bought a cigar, and while there he asked how the fire was progressing. The defendant, he said, had served time in jail for an assault on his father.

Morgan denied the charge, he said, and said he would have to prove it on him. In his own behalf the defendant made tenial. He said he did not set fire to the stable, nor did he know who did. He ad-mitted that he had served a term in jail, but was released about six months ago.

cratic Meeting Held Last Night.

The mass meeting of the sound money democrats at the Opera House last night was not the least enthusiastic that has been held by the various parties during this campaign by long odds. Some of Alexandria's most prominent citizens who are advocates of the gold standard occupied seats on the stage, and many of them could be seen in the audience. Mr. Samuel G. Brent opened the meeting with remarks brief and to the point. He said that as democrats they had assembled to indorse the democratic principles taught by Thomas Jefferson. (Applause.) The platform of true democracy was so wide that any reputable citizen could stand on it. Mr. Brent introduced Mr. George R. Hill, president of the George R. Hill cake, cracker and candy factory, who, after re-ferring to the new and postentous question introduced into the campaign and the fact that business men are being forced into the arena of politics, feeling, doubtless, that they should come to the front and openly stand for those principles which seem to them to be best for all the people regardless of the party, whips, said: "Be not deceived, my friends, by the spe clous talk of the silver-tongued orator about cheap money and plentiful money, and all that sort of thing. Involved in 16 very serious questions relating to national credit; to individual credit; to the natural and healthy life of our agricultural, in-dustrial and commercial interests; to law and order, and to the very existence of our present beneficent form of government; that in a crisis like the present every man should be up and lend his aid against the suppression of the Bryan democracy instituted at Chicago."

Ex-Governor Cameron the next speaker,

"I am here as a democrat to speak to democrats. The only safe rule to be applied to metallic values is that instituted by Thomas Jefferson, who said that 'legal ratio had nothing to do with colnage, but that it must be governed by commercia ratio." Gov. Cameron discussed the sti ratio." Gov. Cameron discussed the silver craze at length and spoke for an hour or more. His remarks were well ap-plauded, though he was frequently inter-rupted by those who had evidently come for the purpose of breaking up the meet-ing, but who were unsuccessful. Both the speakers announced that they would vote for Palmer and Buckner, whom they praised in the highest possible manner, and whom they hey also stated that they were in the fight to beat Wm. J. Bryan and the patch-quilt platform work up at Chicago.

In the County Court. In the county court yesterday Judge Chichester granted a new trial to Grant Smith, colored, charged with the killing of John Johnson at the Virginia Blue base ball club house, February last, on the ground that the prosecuting attorney had failed to prove a corpus delecti, and on the further ground that a continuance of the case should have been granted when asked by the defense, owing to briefness of time allowed for preparation. Smith refused to accept a compromise of fifteen years in the penitentiary for murder in the second de-gree, advised by his counsel, preferring to take his chances at a new trial. The pre-vious trial, as stated in The Star, resulted in a verdict of murder in the first degree

Excise Board Considering the Question-Trying to Get His Name

Of the Application.

There promises to be a hot fight over the liquor license application of George F. Kozel, proprietor of Kozel's Garden, 1825 to 1827 14th street northwest. The Anti-Saloon League, through its attorney, A. E. Shoemaker, has entered a protest in the case. setting forth that the records show that Kozel was licensed for the numbers 1825 and 1827, and since the issuance of that license he has removed the building at No. 1823 14th, and since conducted, and is now conducting the liquor business on said premises under the license issued for 1825 and 1827 14th street. Further, that the saloon is within 400 feet of a school. The inspector's report, to whom the matter was referred, confirms the first part of the report, but states that, while the place is more than 400 feet from the Dennisor School, it is less than that distance from the Orphan Asylum. Mr. Kozel was called before the excise board this morning. He stated that the charge concerning the use of premises 1823 as his garden is correct, but not in violation of law, as he was in the habit of using the rear of those the sale of liquors. Further, that there is but one entrance to the garden, and that known as 1825. Again, it the buildings were renumbered, since the new houses were erected on 14th street, his property would be known as 1825 and 1827, as pre viously.

The board heard the statements and took the matter under advisement.

A request from Wm. M. Sefton, 1837 14th street, that his name be taken off the ap-plication was also considered by the board Mr. Sefton claims that he signed the original application under a misapprehension, believing it was valid only one year He is now fully convinced that the place is an annoyance to the people in the neigh-borhood and a detriment to their property. He believes, also, that the place is within 400 feet of a public school.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL. President Boardman Says More Room is Needed.

The annual report of the Emergency Hospital and Central Dispensary, which has just been made public, shows that during the past fiscal year there has been a large increase in the number of patients treated at the institution. In presenting the report President Boardman calls attention to the suggestion made last winter when the appropriation for the institution was under discussion. It was the wisdom of supplying one institution with all the surgical skill, appliances and rooms for the proper treatment of emergency cases. In a city of the population of Washington one institution so equipped, he says, would be able to attend to that class of cases. Were it possible to supply each of several hospitals with an experienced and skilled surgeon it could hardly be expected that either Congress or the general public would be willing to do the unnecessary thing of providing all of them with expensive appliances re quired for success in surgical operations President Boardman calls attention to the necessity of providing more room for the institution. He closes his report with a recommendation of $15,000 for the ensuing year for maintenance.
The reports of Dr. Swann M. Burnett, president of the attending staff, shows an encouraging condition of affairs at the hospital, as does the interesting report of the superintendent, Miss Eva Simonton.
